

Vladimir Dotsenko (CINVESTAV and Trinity College Dublin)
Computational commutative algebra and operad theory

Abstract: I shall explain how to use computational commutative algebra to answer a question of Loday on classifying "regular one-relation operads". I shall also outline other applications to operad theory. The talk summarises several joint projects with Murray Bremner.